

Environment Policy

Our Commitment

Fortescue Metals Group (Fortescue) is committed to safeguarding the environment wherever we operate. We acknowledge that the nature of our operations can impact the environment, and wherever possible, we will prevent or otherwise minimise, mitigate and remediate the effects of our operations.

Our Strategy

Wherever we operate, Fortescue will:

- Implement an effective Environmental Management System (EMS) to identify and manage environmental risks, set appropriate targets and continually improve our environmental performance.
- Comply with all applicable environmental compliance obligations.
- Take responsibility for our impacts by protecting biodiversity for future generations.
- Respect legally protected areas and species of conservation significance.
- Efficiently use water and energy and maximise the value of existing resources.
- Respect the value of water resources and reliance on them by surrounding ecosystems and communities.
- Implement strategies to reduce the carbon emission intensity of our operations.
- Reduce waste generation through prevention, reduction, reuse and recycling strategies.
- Engage with our stakeholders to leverage opportunities to improve environmental performance.
